In the area of waste management Switzerland is a model for many regions and countries, which leads to an increased interest to Swiss recycling systems. Our platform = knowledge in individual modules along the entire value chain is presented transparently (from collection to secondary products) and basic knowledge is supplemented by so-called „Best Practice“. These are selected examples as they can serve as model projects in other countries.

- > Support of the recycling idea world-wide
- > Useful and sustainable handling of resources and waste
- > Concrete contribution to the fight against poverty
- > Swiss systems as model for developing countries
